

Christopher Brown

Chris is a Ventures Partner at Contrarian Ventures. He has 10 years of energy experience across a broad range of investment and commercial roles covering energy transition, growth equity and infrastructure opportunities having worked within Investment Banking and Energy Corporates.

Chris is an executive director at Alexa Capital, a boutique cleantech advisory firm, where he is responsible for origination and execution of strategic projects, M&A and capital raising in the energy technology, mobility and renewable infrastructure sectors.

Previously, Chris was an Executive Director at Goldman Sachs, J.Aron Commodities as well Head of Commercial Innovation & Corporate Development at SSE. Chris has also held a senior commercial role at a mobility-focused startup. Chris graduated with a BSc in Economics from The University of Nottingham.